

Gidi Grinstein, Founder and President

Grinstein is considered one of the leading policy analysts in Israel and commands a variety of expertise on national security, negotiations, governance and socioeconomics.

Gidi served in the Office and then in the Bureau of PM Barak as the Secretary and coordinator of the Negotiation Team of the Government of Israel to the Permanent Status negotiations between Israel and the PLO (1999-2001).

Gidi has an extensive background in policy-planning and is a graduate of the Harvard Kennedy School of Government (2002) and Tel-Aviv University Schools of Law (1999) and Economics (1991).

The Reut Institute - From Vision to Policy

Recently referred to by Ben Kaspi, one of Israel's leading commentators as: "The most prominent policy group in Israel", The Reut Institute is a non-partisan, non-advocacy policy group supporting Israeli decision makers on a pro-bono basis. Reut is an innovator in the field of policy think tanks.

Reut works to sustain a significant and substantive impact on the security and well-being of the State of Israel and the Jewish People. Reut serves as a primary address for decision-makers, empowers them to take better decisions incorporating long-term considerations into their ongoing decisions and works to train Israel's future strategic leaders through the most advanced training program in Israel..

"Israel's Premier Strategy Policy Group"

Thomas Friedman, New York Times, March 30th, 2007

www.reut-institute.org

www.gidigrinstein.com